JULY 20-26, 2015

Be prepared to be transported by heavenly music sung by a choir of approximately 180 singers coming from all over the United States, sponsored by the Royal School of Church Music in America (RSCMA). They will perform the daily offices of Evensong and Compline in the Anglican tradition as well as a sung Eucharist and Festal Evensong. Every year during the final full week of July, we are truly fortunate at St. Stephen's to be able to experience music of unparalleled spirituality performed by such skillful musicians. Both choristers and adults enjoy a week of music-making, fun, prayer, and fellowship in the beautiful Wyoming Valley. The guest director for 2015 is Scott Hanoian, and Tom Sheehan of Harvard University will serve as organist.

Canon Laubach observed, "We feel truly privileged and blessed to have this extraordinary opportunity to be together with friends for an entire week to sing the Daily Office of Evensong, a Mass for the Feast of the Transfiguration, and Sunday Matins and Mass in such an historic and amazing sacred space."
